Wilson Seeks NATO Revamp

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson was reported to have urged President Johnson today to join in working for broad reorganization of NATO to provide a new nuclear weapons command and council on high strategy.

A White House conference, starting in late morning, opened the second and final day of policy discussions between Johnson and Wilson. Their discussion of what to do about the nuclear weapons force within NATO was one of two major military topics reported as being discussed by them.

The other topic, posed by Johnson, was whether Britain would make a much larger contribution to the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam.

Johnson planned to urge Wilson to do everything possible in this respect. Associates say the president is strongly committed to the policy of getting as many other countries as possible to take part in the struggle.

Britain, with military commitments of its own in nearby Malaysia, has only a small anti-aircraft warfare training mission with the South Vietnamese government now. It was reported that Johnson would like Britain to put in a regular military training mission. At the moment, apart from the United States and Britain, there are 18 nations contributing to the war effort in Viet Nam, most of the with non-military assistance.

Protest Sought On Health Issue

A group of eight Kelowna businessmen Monday night attended city council meeting to ask council to protest political interference with health measures in the South Okanagan Health Unit.

The group headed by Dennis Crookes, former Kelowna alderman, said it was not trying to tell anyone how to vote, but deplored political spokesmen telling health authorities how to operate.

The protest arose out of recent statements by the provincial minister of agriculture and the provincial minister of health, Peterson, in the centre of the South Okanagan Health Unit, is to vote Saturday on fluoridation of its water supply.

DENIST ORDER

Both the medical health officer and the dental health officer, on instructions from the Union Board of Health, had expressed opinions favoring fluoridation in the area.

Agriculture Minister Frank Richter, who is MLA for Similkameen, had protested the opinion to Health Minister Martin.

Monday night Mr. Crookes said the matter was much more serious than many people realize.

Searchers Out For 24 Hours In 10-Degree Temperatures

MRS. WILLIAM RAWICKI
Vernon Correspondent
Kelowna Daily Courier

VERNON — Three Vernon skiers were rescued on the point of exhaustion by a Silver Star Mountain rescue team after a night spent lost in 10 degree weather.

Reported in good condition in Vernon Jubilee Hospital Monday was Miss Marlene Elder. The two other skiers, Bud Sisk and Bob Larnaby, were seriously injured by their ordeal and were resting at home.

In order to locate the three in time to save their lives, rescuers spent almost 24 hours out in freezing weather and braving a fierce wind Saturday night and Sunday.

The two became lost sometime about 3 p.m. Saturday when skiing along the Mine Cabin Trail. They apparently missed the turn-off and went beyond the common ski run covered at the end of each day by the ski patrol.

CAR NOTICED

Their car was noticed at the Star's parking lot at 6 p.m. and the ski patrol notified.

A six-man team was organized and the lost skiers' tracks spotted by 10 p.m. The patrol then followed the tracks through the night.

In the meantime, RCMP had notified Vernon Search and Rescue group searchmaster Ed Hornell, and by midnight fully equipped searchers on snowshoes were in action. The skiers' tracks and those of the ski patrol were located by the team search party at 3 a.m. Sunday on top of the ski run one mile above the chalet. The search continued through the night until daylight when the ski patrol found the lost skiers.

The trio had kept moving all night in order to keep warm and stay alive as they were without matches to start a fire.

The search and rescue group then caught up with the three and their rescuers and the party now totalled nine.

PARTY SPOTTED
Vernon RCMP aircraft spotted the party at about 10 a.m. and directed them to the best departure route from the area.

Miss Elder walked part of the way out but then was carried on a stretcher formed of this.

All three skiers suffered from exposure, exhaustion and hunger. The returning rescuers and rescuees were met by a volunteer party from the chalet, brought in to safety and then fed.

Britain Gives Pearson Backing On International Police Plan

LONDON (CP)—Britain has thrown its support behind Prime Minister Pearson's plan for an international police force ready for action anywhere in the world.

The House of Commons approved without a formal vote Monday night a Conservative Opposition member's motion for United Nations reforms, including the creation of a peace-keeping force.

The resolution noted the "faults and successes" of the UN and the view of Secretary-General U. Thant that, if it is to have a future, the world body must assume some of the attributes of a state. This included, in particular, the means of acting in "areas of actual or potential conflict."

The resolution also called attention to the need for reforms in the UN, in particular by the "creation by like-minded states," as suggested by Pearson, of a small peace-keeping force on a permanent basis.

Red Attack Held Off

DAT DO, South Viet Nam (Reuters)—A handful of government troops here held off an all-out assault by a battalion of Viet Cong guerrillas today in nearly five hours of virtual hand-to-hand combat, killing or wounding an estimated 163 guerrillas.

Dat Do, a district capital about 50 miles east of Saigon in Phuoc Tuy province, came under close range attack early this morning when the Viet Cong opened up with an almost continuous barrage of mortars, recoilless rifles and heavy machine-guns.

The 54 government troops, pinned down by a three-side attack, fought off four "human wave" charges by the Viet Cong and lost only three dead and eight wounded.

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong guerrillas overran a small outpost at the southern tip of Viet Nam today, killing 12 soldiers including three Americans.

Ten South Vietnamese soldiers were wounded in the surprise attack by about 50 Communists.

Murder Trial Ends After 52 Seconds
WINCHESTER, England (AP)—Ramsey Shannon, 33, began serving a life sentence Tuesday after a murder trial which lasted 52 seconds. Only 77 words were spoken. Shannon spoke two of them. Shannon was charged with stabbing his German girl friend, Gisela Meyer, a 29-year-old waitress, who was stabbed 28 times.

New Mayor Ousts Whitton

OTTAWA (CP) — Controller Don Reid, a convincing combination of experience, youth and good looks, scored a smashing victory in Ottawa's mayoralty election Monday to unseat the once-unsinkable Charlotte Whitton.

The 38-year-old furniture dealer astonished the experts by making a runaway of a race that was supposed to have been a neck-and-neck affair among himself, Mayor Whitton and Frank Ryan, the mayor's 63-year-old brother-in-law.

Miss Whitton, mayor for nine of the last 13 years and never before beaten in the civic field, finished third behind Mr. Ryan, owner of radio station CFRA. The final count gave Mr. Reid 43,854 votes; Mr. Ryan 26,961 and Miss Whitton 25,575.

TORONTO (CP) — Bellicose Allan Lamport went into political eclipse for the time being today and Toronto municipal politics could look forward to two years of relative decorum under re-elected Mayor Philip Givens.

Martin Appeals For Concessions On UN Peace Bill

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—External Affairs Minister Martin today called for "concessions on all sides" to bring about a settlement of the UN crisis over peace-keeping finances.

In Canada's annual policy statement before the General Assembly, Martin also made what appeared to be a statement supporting eventual seating of Communist China.

He said the admission of three new members last week "takes us yet another step closer to universality of membership which... must remain our ultimate goal so long as any significant segment of the world's population remains unrepresented in this forum." On peace-keeping, Martin said the UN was facing one of the most critical issues of its existence. It was not only a financial and constitutional crisis but "a crisis which touches upon our whole conception of the United Nations as the custodian of international peace and security."

He said he is confident the concessions necessary for a settlement can and will be made. And he added that agreement would not only be vital for the UN but could be as important as last year's partial nuclear test ban treaty as "a means of broadening the basis of international understanding."

Blaze Kills 5 Children

SCHOMBERG, Ont. (CP) — Five children died in a blazing farmhouse near here today and a sixth, an 18-year-old boy, may also have died in the building.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Sparks were trapped by flames that almost destroyed the two-story brick home by the time firemen arrived.

The parents and several other children escaped. The dead Sparks children are: Dale, 23; Ricky, 13; Patrick, 11; Michael, 6; and Donny, 4.

Congo Rebel Asks For Aid

NAIROBI (AP) — Congolese rebel leader Christophe Gbenye today appealed to African and other nations who protested the American and Belgian intervention in the Congo for military aid to fight the government forces of Premier Moise Tshombe.

The appeal was issued through the Kenya news agency which reported it had been received from Gbenye in the northern Congolese rebel stronghold of Paulis.

"The fight continues," declared Gbenye. "I am neither captured nor dead as the authorities in Léopoldville pretend. All the fighters are with me and are determined to reunite their energy to complete the liberation of the Congo."

Gbenye charged the U.S. and Belgium are solely responsible for the massacres committed in the Congo and particularly at Stanleyville. He claimed the revolutionary government in all ways had safeguarded and would continue to safeguard the security of property and persons.

Gbenye asserted that until the Belgian paratroop drop, not a drop of blood had been shed. He gave the date of the drop as Nov. 22—two days earlier than that announced by Belgium and Washington.

Customs Nab Drug Haul
NEW YORK (AP)—A 49-year-old woman is accused of attempting to smuggle into the United States 22 pounds of cocaine worth between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000 on the underworld market.

Officials said a young customs inspector's interception of the cocaine at Kennedy Airport after it was brought from Santiago, Chile, was the largest cocaine shipment seizure ever made in the U.S.

The woman, Mrs. Juanita Brudie, who has a record of 15 larceny and prostitution convictions, chose being held in jail rather than being freed in bail. "I am in danger of my life," she said when arraigned Monday before U.S. Commissioner Salvatore T. Abruzzo in Brooklyn. Bail was set at $50,000.

Customs officials said Mrs. Brudie, a New York resident, was the courier for "a major international conspiracy."

Assistant U.S. Attorney Raymond H. Grunewald said at her arraignment:

"It took a large amount of money to get this dope and to send this woman to Chile for it. This is a conspiracy of great magnitude, and a number of people are involved."

PEDESTAL TYPE
The cocaine, packed in cellophane bags, is of the purest type and worth about $200,000 wholesale. This figure jumps into the millions after the dope is adulterated and distributed to addicts.

SINGER SEEKS HOUSE
DUBLIN (AP) — Folk singer Burl Ives arrived Monday to look for a site to build a house. He said he wants to live in Ireland a few months each year to "cool off."

Surely In Interest Of Great Powers To Avert Confrontation Expanding

It was surely in the interests of the great powers, he said, that "the international community should be free to act in situations which might otherwise have the effect of extending the area of confrontation between them."

The Canadian minister advanced no new suggestions for solving the crisis, brought on by the refusal of the Soviet Union and France to pay peace-keeping assessments which they regard as illegal.

But he indicated that the U.S.-Soviet negotiations now under way should be broadened soon to call into action the assembly's 21-country working group on finances, on which Canada is a member.

The Canadian objectives in these discussions will be to achieve an accommodation, not a capitulation, he said.

Canada so far has supported the U.S. contention that the Soviet Union has no right to vote in the assembly because its debt exceeds two years' assessments. The assembly opened its full session a week ago today under an agreement by which no votes would be called for until after the general policy debate — in effect until after Christmas—to avoid a showdown on that crisis.

On disarmament, Martin said the central issue before the assembly was the need to limit the spread of nuclear weapons — particularly in view of China's Oct. 16 nuclear explosion.

"We deeply regret that the Chinese Communist government should have chosen to disregard world opinion in such a deliberate fashion," he said.

"We also look upon this development as profoundly disquieting for the future. If it does nothing else, I would hope that it will impart fresh urgency to our efforts to reach agreement to limit the spread of independent military nuclear capability."

Martin departed from his text to announce an increase of $2,000,000 in the $5,400,000 Canada already has pledged to the world food program.

Thirsty Quebec Views Ontario

MONTREAL (CP) — Quebecers cast thirsty glances across its borders Monday as negotiations began in an effort to end a strike of some 3,000 employees of the Quebec Liquor Board, which closed all liquor stores and warehouses in the province.

Many Montrealsers began consulting road maps to measure the distances to Cornwall and Hawkesbury, Ont., and the United States, the nearest points across the provincial boundary where take-home liquor can be had.

King Raps Britain, U.S.
On South African Policies

Martin Luther King, U.S. civil rights leader and Nobel Prize winner, accused Britain and the United States Monday of "tolerating" the South African "tyranny" that promotes racial segregation. He called for economic penalties against South Africa, which he called a police state. "We must join in a non-violent action to bring freedom and justice to South Africa by a massive movement for economic sanctions," the Negro clergyman told a mass meeting in London.

Prime Minister Keith Holyoake of New Zealand today announced that he would name a high commissioner for New Zealand in Canada in succession to J. B. Reid, who returned here from Ottawa recently because of ill health. The new high commissioner is a former minister of internal affairs.

Brig. J. B. Allan, 50, recently retired vice quartermaster general of the Canadian army, Monday in Ottawa was charged with bribery and conspiracy in the alleged acceptance of benefits worth more than $4,000 between 1957 and 1963. The charges were laid by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in city magistrates' court. Brig. Allan is free on $4,000 cash bail.

Tshombe Charges Witch Doctor
Used In Atrocities By Rebels

LEOPOLDVILLE (CP)—Premier Moise Tshombe's government has charged that rebels in the northeastern Congo dismembered and disemboweled some of their victims and used their hearts as ritual food.

In a white paper on rebel atrocities released Monday, the Congolese government claimed rebel army chief Nicholas Uvonge often used a witch doctor called Mama Oomua to exorcise his troops.

Tshombe told a press conference he would arrive in New York Saturday to take part in Security Council debate on the Congo.

The council debate was first sought by 16 African nations, Yugoslavia and Afghanistan, who accused the United States and Belgium of having endangered peace in Africa with their recent military rescue operation in the northeast Congo.

EXPECTED TO COUNTER
Tshombe was expected to counter charges of child slavery from other countries to the rebels. The white paper charged such aid was given by the Soviet Union, China, the United Arab Republic, Algeria, and neighboring Congo Brazzaville and Burundi.

The white paper claimed the rebels slaughtered 4,000 persons at Pwani, 225 miles northeast of Stanleyville. Some were made to drink gasoline, then their stomachs were slashed open and they were set afire, the book said.

The document contains a photograph purporting to be a telegram from Congo ordering a local chief to massacre all Belgians and Americans in his district if the region was bombed by government planes.

The white paper also quoted a Pakistani refugee as saying he found the bodies of several hundred Congolese whose eyes had been gouged out and their noses and ears sliced off.

Tshombe also said special courts would be set up to try the thousands of rebels being rounded up by his forces. "The Congolese people want this to be done," he added.

Sixty Killed
In Safety Week

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Canada recorded at least 60 highway deaths during the seven days of Safe Driving Week which ended at midnight Monday.

The figure was two more than last year's total and the second highest in the last five years. Highest was in 1962 when 70 persons were killed.

Quebec, Ontario and Alberta registered higher numbers of fatalities than last year.

In a survey by The Canadian Press only Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick were fatality free during the seven-day period. Last year, P.E.I. alone was without a highway death.

Ontario led the provinces this year with 26 deaths compared with 17 last year. Quebec had 22 compared with 18 and Alberta registered five compared with three for the previous year.

British Columbia recorded three highway deaths, while Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, Manitoba and Saskatchewan had one each.

There were three fatal accidents in all of Canada during the first day of Safe Driving Week last Tuesday, a Wednesday, 13 Thursday, 15 Friday, seven Saturday, 15 Sunday and six Monday.

There were 51 deaths in 1963 and 49 in 1961.

Trashy Books
Not To Blame

CALGARY (CP)—Education Minister McKinnon said Monday he does not believe "trashy" literature is a major problem in Alberta schools.

He said in an interview parents "should accept responsibility for the morals of their children rather than blaming the government to do it."

He said there might be the odd comic book "that perhaps shouldn't be there in school," but 99 per cent of the time teachers are so busy there is not time for anything else.

WEARY COMMONS AWAITS
New Tory Flag Tactics

OTTAWA (CP)—A weary Commons waited today for the Conservatives to reveal strategy in their attempt to win a national plebiscite on the flag issue.

Since last Monday, MPs have been debating a Conservative amendment that would refer the flag report back to the committee with a recommendation for a national plebiscite. Conservatives speakers argue that this is the only way to produce a national flag without damaging Canadian unity.

Defeat of the plebiscite amendment could open the way for an attempt at another amendment or open debate on the committee report.

Midnight Fire Burns Area Barn Loss $20,000

A two-story barn on Highway 97 near the Drive-In Theatre burned at 11:30 p.m. Monday. The barn, the property of Melvin William Marshall, contained a tractor, grain and other implements. The loss is estimated at $20,000, police said.

RCMP Constable Ned Bruce noticed the fire while on patrol and woke the owner. The fire department attended but were unable to save the structure. No animals were in the building. Cause of the fire is not certain, but police suspect a faulty electrical connection.

Two motor vehicle accidents were reported to police Monday. Charges were laid in both collisions.

No injuries were reported from a two-car collision at Glen St. and Borden Ave. at 8:30 a.m. Police said drivers were William Waskow, 1966, and Edward R. Hume, 1966, both of Kelowna.

A car struck a house on Campbell Road, Westbank, last night at 11:30 p.m. The car, a white Ford, apparently struck the house at 400 p.m. and set it on fire.

Also at this meeting, Warren Williamson of Osoyoos and Ernest Cripps of Kelowna were elected to represent the association at the Western Food Processors association convention in Vancouver in February.

MUSICALLY SPEAKING

With BETHEL STEELE

In today's world wide educational revolution there are great changes in the general concept as to what makes a well educated and therefore the whole man. One concept and surprisingly enough one taking precedence over the idea that true education must prepare the way for making a living, is the belief that the truly happy person is the one whose way of life fulfills the universal need for self-expression.

It is the complete satisfaction in self-expression of the music student which makes him one of the most outstanding elements of the public school system wherein music is given its proper place.

This was brought home to me last Thursday when I had the privilege of travelling to Westbank with our Kelowna senior secondary band in company with Garfield McKinley and a bus load of students, the purpose of which was the assistance, by Kelowna's 80-piece band in company with the Dr. Knox and the George Elliot bands, of Miss Sigurd-Anne Thors and the new music studies in the George Pringle secondary school.

The music student is seldom, if ever, in trouble. He is too busy with his music to be looking for something to do. But he is exuberant and he possesses an effectiveness and a sensitivity not often found in other young people and needs understanding and a sensitive approach to his problems.

All these music students gave freely and generously of their time needed for examination study in order that the people of Westbank might learn what goes into the making of a fine band. And they had fun in the doing, at least our bus load did if noise means anything. Thanks for the ride kids, I had fun too.

Vern Bryant and the Dr. Knox band are in the process of rebuilding as in this school the top grades were skimmed off in the new arrangement within the system. The playing of this band is always assured and rhythmically secure. By Spring the choir will be completely blended. Pitch was good.

Miss Thors' Winfield band is developing very nicely. They would do well to use a warm-up march, as pitch and blend improved mightily once the players gained the assurance provided by the first number. Our praise must go to Miss Thors for she inspired enthusiasm and a great love of good music in her students. Westbank is indeed lucky to share her with Winfield.

The mighty Kelowna group was minus a few who simply had to stay home to study. Nonetheless we enjoyed them more than the night before because we could hear them better at George Pringle. There are some wonderful brasses in this band and they had the band that played Greenleaves not the symphony. Sorry I goosed kids. Just put it down to battle fatigue.

We are sorry that one or two of the Christmas concerts have been cancelled. The junior strings, choir, and bands are the foundation for the senior work and the people of Kelowna need to hear how well this foundation is being laid and given the progress of the progress made.

A talented musical Christmas present comes to Kelowna next February 5 and 6, courtesy of the Okanagan Valley Music Educators federation with our own Vern Bryant as president. A Valley-wide music clinic under the world famous trumpeter Rafael Mendez has been arranged and the Royal Engineers Band with Lieut. Campbell conducting, will accompany Mendez in concert in the Kelowna Community Theatre.

"Kelowna traffic seems to be in greater volume than in previous years," said Mr. Collinson.

Better Information Flow Sought By Walrod, Shippers

A general meeting of the Okanagan Federated Shippers association Dec. 2 heard a report from B.C. Tree Fruits on the marketing of the 1964 crop and prospects for the balance of the season.

R. P. Walrod, general manager of B.C. Tree Fruits dealt with matters of over-all policy of the sales organization and the marketing problems encountered in 1964 due to the unfavorable weather conditions.

J. R. Lander, general manager, gave detailed reports of sales and shipments as well as prospects for the movement of the balance of the apple and pear crop.

"Throughout the meeting there were many expressions of complete confidence in the sales office and its administrative staff," said L. R. Stephens, secretary-manager of the Okanagan Federated Shippers association.

Questions were frankly asked and frankly answered. We will hold more frequent meetings of this type in the future.

Discussing the marketing problems, Mr. Walrod said the distributive channels, such as the wholesalers and retailers, have extended excellent co-operation and without this understanding relationship growers' returns would have been much less.

He also appealed to the packhouse managers to assist in maintaining a healthy line of communication between the sales office and the primary producers. Representatives of practically every packhouse in the fruit area attended the meeting.

One Candidate Will Miss Forum Wednesday Night

"However," he said, "I have an appointment with the Public Utilities Commission in Vancouver set some six weeks ago for that date."

COUNCIL BRIEFS

ALD. A. Key Follard reported that the Kelowna branch has done much for the betterment of the community. We spearheaded the movement to control and the house numbering system. We were prime movers in building the bridge across Okanagan Lake and we assisted merchants in setting a unified store hour policy.

Mr. Follard reported on the apple pack. He said of the 425 boxes ordered, 325 boxes have been sold. There is no time left for shipping boxes to the American states and Maritime provinces. Tuesday, December 15 is the deadline for orders to the western provinces.

Walter Gray, chairman of the dance committee gave a report on the New Year's Eve to be held in the Aquatic. The tickets have now been printed and are available from Jayvee members for $10 a couple.

"This includes a meal which will be served from a choice of menus between 12 and 2 a.m. at the dance," said Mr. Gray.

A Kelowna Little Theatre costume work party was held in the little theatre today and a group of women, under the direction of Mrs. Ronald Urwin, worked on costumes to be used in the play said Mrs. Jean Creese, one of the actresses in the play.

"The production, Alice in Wonderland, will be staged Friday, December 18 and Saturday, December 19 in Kelowna Community Theatre and the director is Mrs. William Malcolm, Vernon."

"Mrs. Malcolm wrote the script which has been adapted from the book Alice in Wonderland and Alice Through the Looking Glass. She is a very competent director and we, in the play, have learned this in the past short time."

"Mrs. Malcolm originated the set design, costumes, colors, lighting effects and correlated all the aspects with one another," said Mrs. Creese.

city to borrow $130,000, if it is passed Saturday.

"A pedestrian overpass is also urgently needed at Highland Drive South and Highland Drive North, over the CNR tracks. These streets do not connect now, and an overpass would be a safety precaution for children attending Dr. Knox school from Highland Drive North."

"Estimated cost of replacing the four bridges (on Ethel, Richter and Pandosy streets, and on Sutherland Ave.) also built. All are to be widened to the full width of the street," Mr. Bedford said.

If Death Penalty Killed Easier Divorce Needed

All signs in Ottawa suggest that the death penalty will be abolished in Canada in the near future. Justice Minister Fawcett has announced that at the next session of the House of Commons the members will have the opportunity of a free vote. This means that they will vote according to their personal convictions and not on party lines. If the bill is defeated, it will not be a defeat of the government.

It is believed enough members will support an abolition bill to ensure its passage.

This, of course, is a difficult problem and one which the individual can only resolve for himself. This newspaper has considerable doubts about the complete abolition of the death penalty, if it is to be retained in capital murder cases. However, the indications are that the majority—the majority of MPs, at least—do not feel this way and it is probable their will prevail.

However, if the death penalty is abolished there is one subordinate area about which we feel very strongly. To abolish the death penalty without amending the divorce law will simply create extra hardship for many innocent people.

At the present time if a man commits capital murder and is hanged, his widow is free to take up her new life. The opposite, of course, is true should a woman be convicted of capital murder.

However, if the death penalty is abolished, and the divorce law remains as it is, the other marital partner is unjustly tied down for life. She—or he—would not be free to marry again and make a new life.

We may be quite wrong in our assumption, but we do feel that only a very small percentage of the marital partners would wish to stay tied to the other partner imprisoned for life. Yet without amendment of the divorce law, this is what would happen. In many cases a common law marriage would be the only solution and certainly it is not completely satisfactory.

The question of abolition of the death penalty has been around a long time in this country. So, too, has the question of modernization of our antiquated divorce law. In our opinion the latter is even more important than the former, certainly it touches many more people.

The Pearson government, to its credit, would seem to have a penchant for tackling tough matters. This is one of the reasons why in this session we have had so much controversy. The divorce law is another such matter and it is to be hoped that the Pearson administration will see fit to add it to the controversial matters which it will try to solve and correct by introducing the appropriate legislation. Obviously the government thinks the death penalty is important. However, the divorce law is much more important and gains even more importance if the death penalty is abolished.

Life Expectancy

The new tables prepared by the Bureau of Statistics show that over the past 30 years there has been a great increase in life expectancy in Canada, that women live considerably longer than men, and that people live longest on the prairies. The tables are based on three-year periods around each of the censuses taken since 1931.

In the period from 1931 to 1961 life expectancy at birth for males increased from 60.0 years to 68.4 years; for females the increase was even greater, from 62.1 to 74.2 years. The improvement, comparable to that of other countries with highly developed health care, has been due to the great advances in medical knowledge, particularly to the substantial reduction in recent years in mortality among children and adolescents from infectious diseases.

The statisticians pointed out that, since their tables are based on past death rates by age groups, today's children will likely have a pattern of survival and life expectancy quite different from the present life tables because their lives will be spent under constantly improving conditions of health care. However, since diseases associated with middle and old age are much less amenable to control than the diseases of childhood, it is unlikely that future improvement in life expectancy will be comparable to that achieved in the past three decades.

Regional differences in life expectancy are much less today than 30 years ago. In 1931 the life expectancy at birth for males was 60 years for the whole country, but it varied from 56.2 years in Quebec to 63.5 years on the prairies; for females the national figure was 62.1 years, and the variation was from 57.8 years in Quebec to 65.5 years in the prairie provinces.

In the intervening years longevity has improved for both sexes at all ages and in every region, though more so for females, and Quebec has shown the greatest regional improvement. In 1961 the life expectancy at birth for males was 68.4 years for all Canada, 68.6 years for the Atlantic provinces, 67.3 years for Quebec, 68.3 years for Ontario, 68.8 years for the prairie provinces, 68.9 years for British Columbia; for females the figures were 74.2 years for all Canada, 73.9 years for the Atlantic provinces, 72.8 years for Quebec, 74.4 years for Ontario, 75.7 years for the prairie provinces, 75.4 years for British Columbia.

Canadian and U.S. figures for the 1931-61 period are almost identical. Life tables were not computed here in earlier years but U.S. estimates in 1900 were a life expectancy of 46 years for males and 48 years for females, and it is probable that Canada has achieved the same gains since the turn of the century.—The Clip-Sheet.

Huge Nuclear Stockpile Deployed by 1970 in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—By the early 1970s the nuclear warheads deployed by the United States alone will have an explosive equivalent exceeding 20,000,000 tons of TNT (20,000 megatons).

An explosive force of that size is no more comprehensible to the human mind than the concept of infinity.

The Soviet Union's capacity for destruction probably will be no less.

Three other countries—Britain, France and China—are also building nuclear weapons and scientific say 20 other countries have the technical knowledge to build them.

There now is no such thing as national security for any country.

Two eminent scientists—Jerome B. Wiesner and Herbert F. York—believe that a technical solution to the problem of making North America immune to nuclear attack is impossible.

Wiesner was scientific adviser to President Dwight D. Eisenhower and York was head of the defense department's Advanced Research Project Agency when it embarked on the search for an anti-missile missile.

An impressive number of scientists and research analysts are convinced that the only possible solution is some form of worldwide arms reduction and control.

PROSPECTS REMOTE

But the prospects for agreement in this field in the near future appear remote.

In the event of a nuclear attack on North America, therefore, the main hope for survival—however far-fetched—seems to be to run for the shelters. But as matters now stand, the U.S. shelter program is wholly inadequate.

The shelter program is in the province of the Office of Civilian Defense (OCD) created in 1961 when President John F. Kennedy transferred it to the defense department where it now is under the jurisdiction of the army.

If there is to be any improvement in the shelter program, there will have to be a radical change in the attitude of the U.S. Congress and the public.

The annual appropriation for the OCD has been reduced every year since 1962. In that year, Congress voted $252,500,000. This year OCD asked for $354,000,000 and got $103,000,000.

It wanted to spend $175,000,000 on shelters and $46,000,000 to stock them with food, medical supplies, blankets and blankets.

The decline in appropriations probably reflects popular opinion on the futility of defense measures.

Wiesner and York recently wrote in The Scientific American:

"The steady decrease in national security did not result from any inaction on the part of responsible U.S. military and civilian authorities. It resulted from the systematic exploitation of the products of modern science and technology by the Soviet Union."

"Both sides in the arms race are thus confronted by steadily increasing military strength and steadily decreasing national security."

"It is our considered professional judgment that this dilemma has no technical solution."

What Wiesner and York were saying, in essence, was that regardless of any defense system, enough nuclear warheads would get through to constitute a successful attack.

VICTORIA MERRY-GO-ROUND

Why Not Pay School Board?

By JAMES K. NESSITT

VICTORIA—Shortage of men and women throughout British Columbia offering themselves to be school trustees shows that many people only go into elective office if they are paid.

I see nothing wrong with this. What irritates me is when candidates for elective office must have no interest in money, only wanting to be of service to their country, and to their fellow men. Tell a person in elective office or a candidate that he's out for the pay, and he'll fly in your face.

Strange it is—and proof of the point—that there's never any shortage of candidates for House of Commons, Provincial Legislature, city and municipal councils. All these jobs bring in pay. School trustees are not paid, and why this is so I do not know. It seems to me they should be paid, same as others who are elected.

I asked Education Minister Leslie Peterson about this, and he laughed and he laughed, and would not say a word as to whether or not school trustees should be paid. Being a good politician, he beat about the bush and teased me at my own game.

School trustees are charged with the responsibility of spending money on the school's behalf, and they are charged with the weighty burden of our schools at the local level. As long as we have school trustees they are important people, and they should be paid. If they are not, there will be a constant shortage of people offering themselves for this office.

Time was when citizens felt a glow of satisfaction in the knowledge that they were doing something for somebody else, helping to better the lot of other citizens. That day appears to be gone forever. Money, however, appears to be the be-all and end-all of living and it's a great pity for we use so much money but there is so much poverty and misery in this world that it is so.

When you suggest that a school trustee should be paid, you are told that it is a disgrace, and that it is a disgrace to have a man who is paid to do a job that is so important. But, surely, if a man is paid to do a job that is so important, he should be paid. And, if a man is paid to do a job that is so important, he should be paid.

The point of all this ranting about money is that school trustees should be paid, otherwise no one will want to be a school trustee.

Candidates for elective office, when they speak on the hustings, appealing for votes, never, never say the pay isn't enough. But, surely, if a man is paid to do a job that is so important, he should be paid. And, if a man is paid to do a job that is so important, he should be paid.

They have no hesitation whatsoever in raising their own pay, and they do so as quickly as they can, and they hope the taxpayers will soon forget it. They develop a guilty conscience, and so they never, never talk about how they boosted their own pay, and if you're bold enough to ask them about it, or remind them of what they did, you embarrass them, and so you learn, in their presence, never to mention it.

The point of all this ranting about money is that school trustees should be paid, otherwise no one will want to be a school trustee.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

GROWER'S PLEA

In a month or so the annual convention of the BCFA will be in session and it can be expected to be an extremely lively one.

In the short time at our disposal all fruit growers should very carefully think over the events of the past few months during which so many crops and derogatory remarks have been publicly made about our selling organization, B.C. Tree Fruits, and the capable man at the head of it.

Generally, most of the criticism has been made by those completely unaware of the complexities of selling fruit on a scale such as is required with greatly increasing crops, and those growers who are apparently unable to turn out anything better than a preponderance of tree grade fruit.

In a season such as last, when weather conditions made all phases of fruit production difficult and selling a nightmare, with returns substantially below some of us could do was to put up a squawk and start blaming others for our predicament, with loose and incorrect statements flying all over the place.

It is certain that the majority of fruit growers and the public generally deplore the manner in which these problems have been handled in going on strike, try a black eye, and particularly the public attack on Mr. H. P. Walcott, and it is hoped that good sense and fair play will prevail next January. If it does not then the future could be pretty grim.

Good men are hard to find to do the work which our industry calls for. Let us hang on to those we have as long as we can.

Yours truly,
H. C. HANSFORD

THOSE PEDESTRIANS . . .

First, allow me to congratulate the city and the police for instituting the schoolboy patrol system for better regulation of foot traffic in the school areas. This is a step in the right direction and helps to bring home to youngsters that they too have a responsibility in avoiding traffic accidents.

But, to an incident that happened in the downtown area as I was entering an area designated as private property and with a sign prohibiting entry to unauthorized persons I am an authorized person from a bank money. As I drove into the narrow opening onto this private property, three girl students, (teen aged) suddenly and deliberately stepped in front of my oncoming car, with not more than three feet clearance. With snow conditions as they were this morning I can only "Thank God" that I sped past and only a crawl, and I was able to stop suddenly, otherwise someone would now be either in the morgue or the hospital.

In the first place these students were breaking the law by taking a short cut through this private property, secondly, they crossed at a point where there is no legal cross walk and against the signs posted by the owner. Thirdly, the story in front of a moving vehicle when it was unsafe to do so, obviously they were at fault, but had I been unable to stop I know who would have been blamed and possibly prosecuted.

The schoolboy patrol is an excellent idea and works well in other areas, but it should go beyond this point. There is no police every point of danger and it is up to each pedestrian to exercise as much caution as the motorist and not run away with the idea that because he is on foot, that the onus is completely on the driver, this calls for education of the walking public in the schools, through the newspapers, and any other medium that will get the message over to the general public, young and old alike.

In Ontario the pedestrian has no rights whatever except when walking with a green light or crossing only when it is safe to do so. In Kelowna, however, this law may be at times somewhat infuriating to the pedestrian. But it does keep the walking public alert and on their toes. It without doubt cuts down on accidents and stops this business of nonchalantly stepping off the curb in front of oncoming traffic, when unsafe to do so, with that slow, dawdling, and deliberate step, with that infuriating "bit me if you dare" look of some people.

I believe in giving the pedestrian every "break" and courtesy, and try to drive accordingly. But when I get no cooperation from many of these pedestrians, when they expect me to do the impossible with a three thousand pound vehicle, during good road conditions or bad, then I don't think it is an equitable distribution of responsibility.

For many years these same conditions prevailed in Calgary until about a year ago when an accident was contested by the driver and proved that the pedestrian had not used proper precaution, since then the situation has improved greatly in that city.

Hull's Torrid Pace Could Shatter 50

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Bobby Hull of Chicago Black Hawks is way ahead of the scoring pace he set in 1961-62 when he tied the National Hockey League record of 50 goals in a season.

Official NHL statistics released today show Hull has scored 30 goals in 21 games, including three in the last week while he didn't score his 50th until his 44th game three seasons ago.

Hull trails the pace set by Maurice (The Rocket) Richard who scored 24 goals in his first 21 games in the 1944-45 season and went on to set the NHL record of 50 goals. Richard now predicts Hull will score 60 goals this 70-game season.

The season had only 50 games when The Rocket set his record. Hull leads individual scorers with a total of 26 points, one more than Norm Ullman of Detroit Red Wings whose points are made up of 11 goals and 14 assists. Stan Mikita of Chicago is third with 23 points, including a league-leading 18 assists.

Camille Henry of New York Rangers is fourth with 20 points on 10 goals and 10 assists while Claude Provost of Montreal Canadiens and New York's Phil Goyette are tied with 19 points.

RED WINGS LEAD

In team standings, the first-place Red Wings have 28 points, Montreal and Toronto Maple

Leafs are tied for second with 25, New York is fourth with 24, Chicago fifth with 18 and Boston Bruins remain in the cellar with 14 points.

Despite Detroit's 10-2 defeat by Toronto last Saturday, Red Wings goalie Roger Crozier leads the Vezina Trophy race with a goals-against average of 2.28.

The same number of goals also have been scored against Montreal but Detroit has played one more game. Crozier also leads in shutouts with three.

Toronto defenseman Bob Baun is the most penalized player with 78 minutes followed by veteran Ted Lindsay of Detroit with 67 and Carl Brewer of Toronto with 64.

The Maple Leafs are also the most penalized team with 423 minutes, 183 minutes more than New York which has served the least time in the penalty box.

Chance Proven Stingiest Hurler In American League

BOSTON (AP)—Dean Chance, 23-year-old Los Angeles Angels right hander, posted the lowest average in 21 games in winning the American League's earned-run average race last season, the official figures disclosed today.

Chance yielded 51 earned runs in 278 innings for a 1.63 mark, the best since Spud Chandler of New York Yankees finished with 1.64 in 1943. Chance was named winner of the Cy Young Trophy as the majors' outstanding pitcher in 1964 last month.

The Angels star also pitched the most innings, 278, the most complete games, 15, and the most shutouts, 11. Five of his 20 victories were by 1-0 scores, tying a major league record.

Joel Horlen of Chicago White Sox was second in the Cy Young competition with 1.84 followed by Whitey Ford of the Yankees at 2.15.

Coliseum Deal On Says Smythe

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (CP)—Stafford Smythe, president of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, said today his proposal to build up an $8,000,000 sports coliseum in Vancouver still stands and that the matter now is in the hands of that city's ratifiers.

Commenting on a Vancouver report which quoted him as saying "the deal is off" if the council insists that he cannot build a hotel or other facilities within zoning regulations, Smythe said:

"The council has nothing to do with it. The matter will be decided in a plebiscite this week."

AFL's Capelletti Tops Own Mark

NEW YORK (AP)—Gino Capelletti, Boston Patriots' top tackle-catcher and field-goal kicker, has bettered his own American Football League scoring record with 155 points. He set the old mark of 147 in 1951.

He scored a touchdown on a pass from Babe Parilli, kicked a 12-yard field goal and added four conversions in Boston's 31-24 victory over Kansas City Chiefs Sunday.

Cookie Gilchrist, Buffalo Bills fullback, leads Matt Snell, New York Jets rookie, by 71 yards in their battle for the rushing lead. Each player has two games to go. Gilchrist has gained 862 yards in 193 attempts, Snell 791 in 178. Each has a 4.4 average.

Dainard Paulson of the Jets tied a record with his 12th interception in the game with San Diego Chargers. Paulson has returned the intercepted passes 157 yards.

Pan-Am Official Raps Critic Of Site

WINNIPEG (CP)—James Daly, executive director of the Pan American Games Society, said Monday he doesn't think a Toronto track and field official who questioned Winnipeg's ability to stage the games in 1967 "knows what he's talking about."

Daly was referring to comments made during the weekend by Ken Twigg, former track and field chairman for the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.

Twigg, speaking on the CBC national youth radio program Sportpage, said Sunday Winnipeg wasn't ready for such an undertaking.

"You can't very well class Winnipeg as a tourist area," Twigg said. "This means Winnipeg people themselves will be depended on to support the games."

HOLE-IN-ONE ARTIST

For some, December 7, 1964 may have been a dull dreary day. But for Alfred B. Clark of 1806 Richter St., it was a fine day illuminated by a feat christened by all golfers: Mr. Clark, who is 75, fired a hole-in-one on the Kelowna Golf and Country Club's par 3 155-yard 17th hole. He used a five iron to fashion the masterpiece and said the ball landed at the front edge of the green and bounded into the cup. "I could see it all the way," Clark said. "It was a thrill." Clark has pulled off the feat three years ago before the course was expanded to 16 holes. "It's still quite a thrill," Mr. Clark conceded. He finished up with an 85 Monday. (Courier photo)

Valley Ski Developments Join Forces In Venture

By PETER MUNOZ
Daily Courier Sports Editor

Three men with a vision have big things planned for the development of the Okanagan Valley as a top ski attraction on this continent.

The three progressive Okanagan resort operators have decided that unity is the key to their future success in promoting the entire Okanagan as a skiers' paradise.

Rather than buck the mushrooming lavish ski developments springing up in larger populated areas—besides the existing old established resorts—as separate entities, the operators of the Valley's three ski operations have formed the "3 To Ski Association."

JOINT PROMOTION

John Hindle, manager of Vernon's Silver Star, and spokes-man for the triumvirate, said the association's main aim is to jointly promote skiing in the Okanagan rather than have each operator plugging his own operation. His partners in the venture to put the Okanagan Valley on the ski map of North America are Doug McVey, manager of the Interior's newest ski resort, Kelowna's Big White and Al Menzies, manager of Penticton's Apex development.

The trio are making a triple-barrelled pitch to lure the lucrative business from the more heavily populated areas of the Pacific Northwest and Alberta, to the picture-postcard snow-laden slopes of the Interior.

"Instead of skiers taking winter holidays to ski at spots like Sun Valley, we hope to encourage them to take a skiing holiday in the Okanagan," he said.

FOR FAMILY

Claiming that the combined worth of the three operations in the Okanagan is close to $250,000 now, Mr. Hindle said the association will co-operate to develop and promote the area as a top ski centre for the whole family.

A future hope of the association is to have an interchangeable ticket good at all three Valley operations. This would enable the sking visitor to stop over at one point, for instance Penticton's Apex Mountain, ski for part of his holiday, move on to the central point, Kelowna's Big White and finish up at Vernon's Silver Star, if he chose to make the circuit.

Mr. Hindle said in the last five years, six major lifts have been constructed in the Okanagan, creating 50 miles of sking and 6,000 feet of vertical drop.

He emphasized this was quite an undertaking for a community of this size but that it is an indication of the seriousness they place in their ambition to make the peaceful Valley a haven for the sking population from near and afar.

The B event was won by a rink skipped by Bud Englesby and including Johnny Weninger, Pug Pugliese and Jerry Perello who defeated the Kraft rink from Peachland. The bonspiel was a one-day affair for cash prizes.

Golf Club's Growth Noted At Annual General Meet

An increase in membership and a healthier financial picture were the highlights of the 1964 season for the Kelowna Golf and Country Club.

At the club's annual general meeting Monday night attended by some 75 members, G. M. "Moe" Young, outgoing president, outlined the past year's operation and pointed to the future growth of the club.

"The course enjoyed another wonderful growing year in 1964," he said, "and as long as we give Dave Crane, club professional, the tools to use, the course will continue to be upgraded."

MEET SOON

Six directors and a new club captain were elected to join Mr. Young on the board of directors. The board will meet in the near future to select the executive officers for 1965.

Chosen to two year terms were A. E. Anderson, A. George Barnes and Robert Gilbooly. Vince G. Borch, R. E. McFadden and Thomas T. Tompke were elected for one-year terms. Stewart Jamieson was named club captain by acclamation. E. A. Campbell and Company were retained as auditors for 1965.

The meeting approved the financial statement and other resolutions submitted by the board of directors. They agreed that the entrance fee for regular members participating in privileges and non-resident members be $100 for the 1965 season and that the annual dues be unchanged.

MORE MEMBERS

The club's current assets have increased by over $4,000 since the 1963-64 season. Entrance fees, members' dues and green fees all showed increases. Tournaments showed a drop of $380 which M. J. Peters, who read the financial report, attributed to more being spent on the Okanagan Open for a better tournament.

He said the gross profit for 1964 was 50 per cent compared to 46 per cent in 1963. Net profit was up from $3,334 to $4,836.

Mr. Young told of club and ground improvements carried out during the year. Included was a complete public address system. He mentioned the success of the various tournaments during the season and termed the Okanagan Open "a smashing success."

He said the B.C. Amateur championships held here in June was the "most successful ever."

Adult full playing members jumped from 416 in 1963 to 456 in 1964 and the overall membership increased from 640 to 672 this year. He said there were 54 full playing new members.

"The only concern was a slight drop in juniors, and we suggest the new board look into this next year," Mr. Young said.

He gave brief outlines of the work of the club's various committees and paid tribute to the efforts of their members. He singled out Hal Puder, retiring director, for special praise and also Sam Grant, club steward.

Mr. Young said the wisdom of the appointment of Fred Heatley to the new post of secretary.

Policy Of Charging Former Members Entrance Fee Challenged From Floor

A protest was voiced of the club's policy of charging an old member the full entrance fee of $100 on application to rejoin the club. Jim Gibb said he felt some consideration should be given to someone who has been a member of the club for three years or more and dropped out for a year or so. He said it was unfair to impose "such a penalty."

"I think there are some former members who would like to rejoin but hesitate to pay the $100 entrance fee," he asked if there couldn't be some special entrance fee set for such a situation. He said it might help clear up the bad image that some people have "that all the club is interested in is money."

PROVISION

Mr. Gilbooly, club vice-president, said the club does make provisions for compassionate reasons but not for members who leave town or just want to take a year off golfing. He said the latter must take out an associate membership or otherwise on their return would be subject to the full entrance fee again.

Mr. Tompke said the board would have trouble budgeting if people were allowed to drop out and re-enter as they please.

Mr. Young said when the extension to 18 holes was being made, the club offered lots of time for these people to join at the old $25 entrance fee. He said even if the various tournaments could be made only on compassionate grounds "which offer a wide latitude."

He suggested that perhaps the new board could consider this whole policy.

Mets Trade Stallard To Cards

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Mets traded right-hander Tracy Stallard, one of their regular starting pitchers, to St. Louis Cardinals today for two young players who spent most of last season with Jacksonville Suns in the International League.

Coming to the Mets, a team spokesman announced, are left-handed pitcher Gordon Richardson and left-handed hitting outfielder Johnny Lewis. Both 25 and both of whom appeared briefly with the world champion Cardinals last season.

Stallard, 28, was acquired by the Mets in a trade with the Cardinals last season. He had appeared in 10 games for the Mets, but was injured and did not play.
